UC Open Access Policy Deposit Advice

You can deposit the author's final version of this manuscript for public display on eScholarship if:

1. You signed the publication agreement after July 24, 2013
2. Your publisher did not specifically request that you send them a waiver or embargo letter. Publishers who do this typically refer to UC's "institutional open access policy."

The author's final version is the version after peer review but before the publisher formats it in the finalized layout.
